I.

VOLCANOES: WHAT THEY ARE AND WHAT THEY TEACH. By J. W. JUDD, Professor of Geology in the Royal School of Mines (London). With Ninety-six Illustrations. "International Scientific Series." 12mo, cloth. Price, $2.

"In no field has modern research been more fruitful than in that of which Professor Judd gives a popular account in the present volume. The great lines of dynamical, geological, and meteorological inquiry converge upon the grand problem of the interior constitution of the earth, and the vast influence of subterranean agencies. . . . His book is very far from being a mere dry description of volcanoes and their eruptions; it is rather a presentation of the terrestrial facts and laws with which volcanic phenomena are associated."—Popular Science Monthly.

II.

FLORIDA FOR TOURISTS, INVALIDS, AND SETTLERS. Containing Practical Information regarding Climate, Soil, and Productions; Cities, Towns, and People; Scenery and Resorts; the Culture of the Orange and other Tropical Fruits; Farming and Gardening; Sports; Routes of Travel, etc., etc. By GEORGE M. BARBOUR. With Map and numerous Illustrations. 12mo, cloth. Price, $1.50.

This is the most comprehensive and authentic book on Florida that has been published. The following TESTIMONIAL is proof of its value and trustworthiness:

"It is known to the undersigned that the author, Mr. George Barbour, has travelled over almost the whole of Florida, under circumstances peculiarly advantageous for enabling him to acquaint himself with the varied resources of the State, and with the attractions which it offers to the three classes to whom his work is addressed—Tourists, Invalids, and Settlers. Our knowledge of his abilities as a writer on Florida subjects, and of the opportunities he has enjoyed in preparing his book, are such that we can commend it as at once trustworthy and comprehensive—greatly superior in these respects to anything hitherto published descriptive of the entire State and its soil and productions."

W. D. BLOXHAM, Governor of Florida; GEORGE F. DREW, ex-Governor of Florida; SETH FRENCH, ex-Commissioner of Immigration; SAMUEL FAIRBANKS, Assistant Commissioner of Immigration.

III.

D. APPLETON & CO., Publishers, 1, 3, and 5 Bond Street, New York.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "ONE SUMMER."

*Aunt Serena.*A New Story by BLANCHE WILLIS HOWARD.
1 vol., 16mo. $1.25."Setting aside its fascination as a story, it is a bright, fresh, clean-cut piece of literary work, unconventional in tone, and independent in spirit."—Boston Transcript."A second novel which is better than her first, and which differs from it almost as widely as if it were the work of another hand."—Boston Budget.*Ralph Waldo Emerson:*His Life, Writings, and Philosophy. By GEO.
WILLIS COOKE. 1 vol., crown 8vo, $2.50."The book has been corrected in its personal statements by a member of Mr. Emerson's family, and will be taken generally as a substantial and authoritative volume, the faithful gleanings of a faithful disciple. Much matter which has been put in type at least once, but is not to be found in Mr. Emerson's volumes, is here brought together, to illustrate critical passages in the career of this remarkable man, and the public will generally concede, on reading what Mr. Cooke has to say, that he is a most excellent Boswell."—New York Times."Mr. Cooke has given to this book long and faithful study, and some high authorities who have examined the MSS., promise it a permanent place in literature."—Unity, Chicago.Japanese Episodes.

By EDWARD H. HOUSE. 1 vol., 16mo, $1.

A charming volume of tales and sketches of the romantic and picturesque life and manners in the country of the Daimios.

"The dainty little volume of 'Japanese Episodes' will be published this week by the Osgoods. No man has had better opportunities of studying the character of 'the Britons of the Pacific' than its author, Mr. E. H. House, who was for some years the publisher of a newspaper at Tokio, and is well known in this country as a gentleman of superior literary ability. His excursions into the interior of the country have furnished material for some exquisite sketches and descriptions of scenery."—Saturday Evening Gazette.The Poets and Poetry of Ireland.

By ALFRED M. WILLIAMS. With Historical and Critical Essays and Notes. 1 vol., 12mo, $2.

An exhaustive compilation of the best verses of the Irish poets, from the earliest times to the present, with valuable historical and biographical introductions, sketches, and notes.

"It covers the whole ground of Irish poetry, from the days of the ancient bards to our own time, and it does it well."—Boston Courier.*Geraldine.*A SOUVENIR OF THE ST. LAWRENCE.
(Elegantly bound in gray and gold. Price, $1.25.)The Cincinnati Commercial says: "As a love story in rhyme, with passion and feeling wrought into the verse, it is likely to be as extensively read as Dr. Holland's 'Kathrina' or 'Bitter Sweet,' or Owen Meredith's 'Lucile.'"The Manchester Times says that: "Its pages fascinate the reader from the introduction to the close, and pearls of thought and gems of descriptive poetry are thickly scattered throughout."The last number of The Critic echoed the sentiment of the religious press thus: "Geraldine is higher in its stern lessons of duty, stronger in its pure teachings of a gracious Christianity than 'Lucile,' which is written from a wordly standpoint."Damen's Ghost,

THE NEW ROUND-ROBIN NOVEL.

Concerning this very successful book, the St. Paul Pioneer Press speaks thus: "Were it possible for any one to be thoroughly conversant with the works of the great novelists, and yet retain no memory of names or events, he would say unhesitatingly that Chapter IV. of the new Round-Robin was written by Dickens in his happiest vein. . . . The library of fiction is enriched by the best of a good series."Homoselle, the fifth Round-Robin, is a charming picture of Virginia plantation life under the old régime. The style is pure and elegant, abounding in touches of pathos and poetry.

"The book would not be out of place next to 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,'" says the Literary World. "Homoselle" has been attributed to the Rev. W. M. Baker, the foremost author of Southern stories; and to Constance Fennimore Woolson, one of the most talented literary women of America.A Nameless Nobleman.

A romance of ancient New England and France.

The Hartford Courant says: "The author has preserved for us in it the odors of both the rose of Provence and the May-flower of New England."*A Lesson in Love.*A brilliant story of modern society in New York. The Alliance calls it "the novel of the year."The Georgians.

A powerful study of Southern character.

"We think this book very close upon Hawthorne's best effort. . . . The grand and profound climax of the story lingers in the mind like the story of Hester Prynne."

Patty's Perversities.

"A charming story of quiet New-England life." NORA PERRY says: "It is the most original story that has appeared for years."

NOTES IN SEASON.

MR. WARNER'S "Washington Irving," the initial volume in Houghton, Mifflin & Co.'s series, American Men of Letters, is postponed until November 16.

COLLINS & BROTHER, N. Y., announce a new edition of "Elements of Conic Sections and Analytical Geometry," by Prof. J. H. Coffin, with additions by Prof. S. J. Coffin, of Lafayette College.

JOHN ALLYN, Boston, will issue early next month, a new edition of "Principles of Chemical Philosophy," by Josiah Parsons Cooke. The volume has been entirely rewritten and will be printed from new plates.

THOMAS NELSON & SONS have just ready a quaint, yet perfectly natural, illustrated book of child life, entitled "Children Busy, Children Glad, Children Naughty, Children Sad." The book is a small quarto, beautifully printed in the best style of lithography, bound in fancy boards, with illuminated design.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have just ready "Odger's Digest of the Law of Libel and Slander, with Notes by M. M. Bigelow;" the seventh edition of "Story on the Law of Partnership, with Notes by W. F. Wharton;" and in a pamphlet some "Points of Law for Lawyers and General Readers," compiled by Charles E. Grinnell of the American Law Review, apropos of Guiteau's case and trial.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish, November 1, the third volume of the collected letters of Charles Dickens. These letters cover no special period, but were written at different times throughout the author's life. Among them are a number addressed to the late Mr. Jas. T. Fields. At the same date will be issued the first three volumes of the new edition of Dr. Holland's works, and Dr. Porter's "Books and Reading."

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS issue this week a new volume in the excellent New Plutarch series—"Martin Luther and his Work," by John H. Treadwell; "Pictures and Legends from Normandy and Brittany," by Thomas and Katherine Macquoid, with numerous illustrations; "Cambridge Trifles"—sketches of English University life by an Undergraduate; "The Enchanted Mirror," a short narrative poem, with illustrations by R. F. Bunner, and two sermons by Dr. Bellows, "Before and After the President's Death."

HENRY HOLT & Co. have now ready their holiday book, "Greece and Rome," translated from the German of Dr. Jacob von Falke, by William Hand Browne, of Johns Hopkins University. The volume is in every respect a handsome one—a large quarto printed on heavy paper, with all of the original illustrations. The work presents a living view of the daily life of the Greeks and Romans in text and illustrations, and, aside from its literary merit, will have a lasting value as a work of art. They have also just ready John D. Champlin, Jr.'s, "Young Folks' History of War for the Union." The work, while intended for the younger readers, will interest the older folks as well. It is neatly gotten up and copiously illustrated.

CASELL, PETTER, GALPIN & Co. have just issued "Old Proverbs with New Pictures," a jolly juvenile—and a book which will amuse the older heads too—with sixty-four fac-simile colored plates from original designs by Lizzie Lawson, and text by C. L. Matéaux, the author of "Home Chat;" "Peter Parley's Annual" for 1882, with its strange stories of tinker, tailor, soldier, sailor, rich man, poor man, plough-boy, thief, and a number of colored plates printed in oils and lithographs; "Little Folks' Album of Music," a collection of songs and rhymes, with music, by J. W. Elliott, J. M. Bentley, and other composers; "Cassell's Book of Indoor Amusements, Card Games, and Fireside Fun;" "Happy Little People," by Olive Patch; and "The Dingy House at Kensington."

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON will issue on the 1st of November, "A Picturesque Tour in Picturesque Lands," by L. G. Seguin. The volume comprises descriptions of France, Spain, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Tyrol, Italy, and Scandinavia. The illustrations are from designs by the most celebrated painters of the various countries described. The volume forms a handsome imperial folio, printed on superfine English paper, and is bound in a lavishly ornamented cloth binding, full gilt. It should be remembered that this is an exact reproduction of the English edition, of which a few copies were imported last year and sold easily at $35 per copy, while the retail price of this is but $10. They will also issue, on the same day, "The May Blossom; or, the Princess and her People," a history in rhyme for children of the girl-life of Queen Victoria. The volume is neatly printed in colors from original paintings by H. H. Emmerson, the principal illustrator of "Afternoon Tea," so popular last year; the verses are by Marion M. Wingrave, the author of the rhymes in "Afternoon Tea." The book is certain of becoming a favorite. Messrs. Armstrong have now ready "Shakesperean Tales in Verse," a rhyming version for the young of some of the popular plays of Shakespeare, by Mrs. Valentine, with colored illustrations by R. Andre; also "Peter Trawl; or, the Adventures of a Whaler Round and About the World," by the late W. H. Kingston.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (Folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Adams, Rev. H. C. Who did it?; or, Holmwood Priory: a schoolboy's tale; il. by A. W. Cooper. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., [1881]. 8+386 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A tale of the beginning of this century; a fine dog has been shot in self-defence by a boy at school; boy-like, he is afraid to own the truth, and it does not come out until after a long interval. The author weaves into his tale stories of a smuggler's den, a regatta, football match, and other incidents of interest to boys. By the author of "Hairbreadth escapes" and other stories for boys.

Adams, W. H. Davenport. The Eastern archipelago: description of the scenery, animal and vegetable life, people and physical wonders of the islands in the Eastern seas. N. Y., T. Nelson & Sons, 1880. 3-576 p. il. and map, D. cl., *$2.

Comprehensive description, with illustrations, of the islands of the Eastern archipelago, by the author of "Recent Polar voyages," based upon the recent researches of Spenser St. John, Crawford, Bickmore, and Wallace.

Beale, Anne. Gladys, the reaper. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., 1881. 8+395 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A novel of every-day life, by the author of "Fay Arlington," "The Pennant family," etc. Gladys is a poor Irish girl who is taken ill in Wales, where she is trying to find work with a party of reapers, and is thrown upon the mercy of a Welsh farmer's wife. By her good, homely ways, learned from a dead mother, she becomes a necessity in the house, fills the gap made by a runaway daughter, then runs away herself, that the eldest son may not quarrel with his father out of love for her. Finally she is claimed as niece by a neighbor who has watched her long, and Gladys reaps the fruits of patience.

Benjamin, S. G. W. Our American artists. 2d ser.: Painters, sculptors, illustrators, engravers and architects. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1881]. 68 p. il. sq. O. cl., $1.50; gilt, $2.

Contains 40 il. of sketches of artists' studios and finished drawings of their paintings, and their own portraits in pen and ink by themselves, with descriptive texts; the artists to whom the book is devoted are: John Lafarge, Arthur Quartley, Daniel Huntington, Thomas Hill, Edwin Lord Weeks, James Wells Champney, George Inness, J. S. Hartley, Charles S. Reinhart.

Blunders of a bashful man, by the author of "A bad boy's diary." N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., [1881]. 9-168 p. S. cl., 60 c.; pap., 25 c.

Humorous story of the blunders and mishaps of a bashful young man.

Champlin, J. D., jr. Young folks' history of the war for the Union. N. Y., H: Holt & Co., 1881. 14+593 p. il. O. cl., $2.75.

As the publishers truly say in announcing this book, "Time has at length placed among curious and intelligent readers a generation which has no personal knowledge of the great American civil war." They will find in this volume a work suited to their needs, combining impartiality and all needed completeness. It is written by the editor of the "Young folks' cyclopædias," who has already established a reputation for thoroughness, accuracy and facility in writing for the young. It gives, in chronological order, a plain and concise account of the most striking events of the war, enlivened by sketches of the prominent men engaged in it, and by incidents and anecdotes illustrative of it. Copiously il. with maps of battles and sieges, portraits, pictures of events and places and two colored plates of the flags of the Union, and the several State and Confederate ensigns used in the war. In an appendix are given the principal songs which grew out of the struggle, with a brief account of their origin.

A story of a murder and the atonement ; English scenes and characters, taken from middle-class life.

Nox, Owen. Southern rambles : Florida. Bost., A. Williams & Co., 1881. 5-149 p. il. sq. D. pap., 50 c.

Narrative of a winter's travel through the South in the year 1877, by two young men, one of whom fancies he is in a fair way to be a consumptive ; they go by steamer from New York to Savannah and thence by rail to Jacksonville, where they have many amusing adventures ; they explore the St. Johns, try life at Enterprise and make a visit to St. Augustine ; the text and pictures are both designed to be exceedingly humorous.

Our young folks at home : illustrated prose stories by American authors and artists. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1881]. 328 p. sq. O. bds., $1.50.

A number of short stories profusely illustrated ; suitable for children, and written by the best writers of juvenile fiction. A dainty cover in sepia colors—wild roses and branches, and little children dancing.

Parker, Jos., D.D. Ingersoll answered : What must I do to be saved ? N. Y., I. K. Funk & Co., 1881. 115 p. O. (Standard ser., Class O. 2, no. 67.) pap., 15 c.

Philpott, H. J. Free trade vs. protection ; or, a tariff for revenue only vs. a tariff for spoils only : manual of facts and figures. Des Moines, State Leader Co., 1881. 21 p. O. pap., 10 c.

Plympton, A. G. The glad year round for boys and girls. Bost., J. R. Osgood & Co., 1882 [1881]. 60 p. il. sq. O. bds., $2.50.

A series of new poems, quaint and amusing, and adapted to please both young and old, richly illustrated in colors in the style of "Under the window," each page is adorned with a fresh picture—boys and maidens and little children in antique costumes, conventional landscapes ; sprays of flowers—daisies, clover-tops, marigolds, pussy-willows—all in their natural colors, and thrown carelessly across the pages here and there, aptly illuminate the droll rhymes.

Puss in boots ; with original il. by E. K. Johnson ; vignettes by W. Gunston. N. Y., T. Nelson & Sons, [1881]. 4+24 p., Tt. bds., 75 c.

See note (for description) under "Little red riding-hood."

Rand, McNally & Co.'s map of Cuba. Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., [1881]. Folded map, T. cl., 50 c.

Rand, McNally & Co.'s indexed maps : England and Wales ; Ireland ; Scotland, 3 v. Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., [1881]. 35 ; 20 ; 28 p. ea. map, T. cl., 75 c.

"Showing the railroads, counties, islands, lakes, mountains, rivers, together with every post-office, railroad station or town, carefully indexed, referring to the exact location where each may be found on the map."

Rand, Mary Abbott. Holly and mistletoe. N. Y., T. Y. Crowell & Co., [1881]. 208 p. il. sq. O. bds., $1.50.

28 short stories for young people ; with full-page illustrations and a characteristic cover—a winter scene, sprays of holly and mistletoe—making a brilliant show of white, green and scarlet.

Raue, C. G., M.D. Special pathology and diagnostics, with therapeutic hints. 2d ed., rewritten and enlarged. N. Y., Boericke & Tafel, 1882 [1881]. 1072 p. O. hf. mor., $7.

"The first edition had become old; it needed renovation. The pathological views had changed so grievously since its appearance, that a re-statement of the same throughout the work became a necessity. Not so, however, the therapeutic hints. They are as true to-day as when they were written."

What I had to do was to express their meaning still more accurately, to enlarge their spheres, and to add such new facts as the experience of others and my own would admit. . . . The chapter on the eye has been overhauled in the ms. by Dr. G. S. Norton and that on the ear by Drs. G. S. Norton and H. C. Houghton."—Preface. Index.

Roget, P. M. Thesaurus of English words and phrases; classified and arranged so as to facilitate the expression of ideas and assist in literary composition. New ed., enl. and improved from the author's notes, and with a full index by J. L. Roget. N. Y., J. R. Anderson & Co., 1881. 44+429+271 p. D. cl., $2.

This edition of a valuable and indispensable book of reference to all literary workers, is printed from the latest London ed., which has been much enlarged and improved by Dr. Roget's son, from his father's notes. In the first place it is supplied with a new and elaborate index, much more complete than that appended to previous editions, which contains not only all the words in the book, but likewise the phrases (foreign and English), all of which were excluded from previous indexes. Some changes in details have also been made; in previous eds. the phrases were in general placed in separate paragraphs, under the heading Phr., in each of the subdivisions assigned to the different grammatical parts of speech. In this ed. words and phrases are placed together, and the latter are arranged as if the nouns, adjectives, etc., to which they are regarded as equivalent, were expressible in single words. Space has been saved and repetitions avoided by the use of lines and hyphens, where words or phrases in the same group have syllables or parts in common.

Rose (A) in thorns, by the author of "Dora Thorne." N. Y., G. Munro, 1881. 45 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1110.) pap., 10 c.

Scudder, Horace E., ed. The children's book: a collection of the best and most famous stories and poems in the English language; with a colored frontispiece by Rosina Emmett. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1881. 6+444 p. il. sq. O. cl., $3.50.

Contains selections from the best standard books written for children, under the following divisions: Book of fables; Book of wonders; A few songs; Book of popular tales; Book of stories in verse; Stories from Hans Christian Andersen; Tales from the Arabian Nights; Book of ballads; Book of familiar stories; A voyage to Liliput; Adventures of Baron Munchausen; Book of poetry; Book of ancient stories. Profusely illustrated, and gotten up in gay holiday style of binding.

Shaffer, Newton, M., M.D. The hysterical element in orthopædic surgery. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1881. 66 p., $1.

Shakespeare, W. Complete works; with a life of the poet, explanatory foot-notes, critical notes, and a glossarial index, by Rev. H. N. Hudson. Harvard ed. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1880-'81. In 20 v., V. 13-20, D. cl., ea. $1.25; $25 (for complete work).

V. 13 cont.: Titus Andronicus; Romeo and Juliet, 267 p.—14, Julius Cæsar; Hamlet, 336 p.—15, King Lear; Timon of Athens, 318 p.—16, Anthony and Cleopatra; Troilus and Cressida, 360 p.—17, Macbeth; Moor of Venice, 318 p.—18, Cymbeline; Coriolanus, 359 p.—19, Pericles; Two noble kinsmen; Venus and Adonis, 327 p.—20, Lucrece; Sonnets, etc. Also a complete index to the 20 v., of words, phrases and allusions explained in the foot-notes, 327 p. With these volumes, this edition, which is already received as one of the standard American editions, is completed. It is a handsome one in every respect, and contains all the works of the great poet—comedies, histories, tragedies and poems—with unexpurgated text, and arranged according to the chronological order of writing. A history of each play is given, two sets of notes—one explaining the text, at the foot of the page, the other printed at the end of each play, is mostly occupied with textual comment and criticisms; they are all fully up to the latest Shakespearean researches. See also note in Weekly Record, P. W., Jan. 15, '81 [470].

Shakespeare, W. The Shakespeare phrase-book, by J. Bartlett. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1881. 8+1034 p. D. cl., $3.

"This book is intended to be an index of the phraseology of Shakespeare; a concordance of phrases rather than of words. Its plan is to take every sentence from his dramatic works which contains an important thought, with so much of the context as preserves the sense, and to put each sentence under its principal words, arranged in alphabetical order. . . . The text of Clark and Wright has been followed, with some slight changes. At the end of the book comparative readings are given from the texts of Dyce, Knight, Singer, Staunton and Richard Grant White."—Preface. By the author of "Familiar quotations."

St. Nicholas: an illustrated magazine for young folks, conducted by Mary Mapes Dodge. V. 8, pt. 1: Nov., 1880 to May, 1881; pt. 2: May, '81 to Oct., '81. N. Y., Century Co., [1881]. 10+496; 8+497-576 p. il. sq. O. cl., $5.

Bound volumes of the year just finished; this popular juvenile magazine has grown to such proportions that it is now issued in two volumes instead of one as formerly; it is too well known with its wealth of pictures, stories, poems, puzzles, etc., for us to go into any description. We need only call attention to a few of the attractions of these volumes: the story of "Phaeton Rogers," by Rosister Johnson; William O. Stoddard's "Saltillo boys;" "In nature's wonderland," by Felix L. Oswald; Mr. Frank Stockton's funny fairy tales; Mrs. Dodge's "Jingles," and the clever sketches contributed by Emily Huntington Miller, Lucretia P. Hale, Susan Coolidge and others.

Taylor, Bayard. Home ballads. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1882 [1881]. 61 p. il. O. cl., $5.

Holiday book, containing five of Mr. Taylor's most popular ballads—"The Quaker widow," "The holly-tree," "John Reed," "Jane Reed," "The old Pennsylvania farmer," illustrated with designs by W. Hamilton Gibson, Hovenden, Murphy, Millet, Yewell, W. L. Taylor, Dielman, Church, Bolton Jones, J. N. Marble and Edwards. The engraving was done by W. B. Closson and Geo. T. Andrew, of Boston, W. J. Linton, of New Haven, Gray, Orr and Heineman, of New York.

Van Wert, Rupert (pseud.) Rip Van Winkle's travels in foreign lands. N. Y., T. Y. Crowell & Co., [1881]. 314 p. il. sq. O. cl., $2.25; bds., $1.75.

Illustrated book of travels, descriptive of scenes and cities in England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Turkey, Greece, Sicily, Portugal and Spain; giving an account of manners and customs of the people, objects and places of historical interest, and much other valuable information to young people, imparted by an experienced traveller.

Waldmüller, Rob. Die Verlobte: Roman. N. Y., G. Munro, 1881. 70 p. Q. (Deutsche Library, no. 38.) pap., 20 c.

Wharton, Rev. C. H. A poetical epistle to George Washington; from the original manuscript belonging to D. Pulsifer. Bost., printed for D. Pulsifer [A. Williams & Co.], 1881. 2+106 p. D. cl., 50 c.

Wilson, Rev. T. P. Amos Huntingdon: a tale illustrative of moral courage, with examples taken from real life. N. Y., T. Nelson & Sons, 1881. 3-422 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Story of two brothers; one is a handsome, bright, high-spirited fellow, full of fun and frolic, but with a tendency to shirk the consequences of some of his wild ways—lacking, in fact, in moral courage; the other brother, Amos, is just the reverse—shy and reserved, and with the highest principles; the story shows the effect Amos' example, aided by the numerous stories a good aunt relates, has upon the brother's life.

Woodworth, S. The old oaken bucket; drawings by Miss L. B. Humphrey; engraved by and under the supervision of W. B. Closson. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1881]. 48 p. sq. D. cl., $1.50.

Illustrated edition of Woodworth's celebrated poem, "The old oaken bucket," uniform with "Ninety and nine," printed on heavy tinted paper, only on one side of the leaf, each page having a verse or couplet and characteristic picture.

The Publishers' Weekly.

OCTOBER 29, 1881.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE "GREAT SUCCESS."

MR. JOHN B. ALDEN, the affable manager of the "Literary Revolution," has taken rather kindly to the remarks concerning the practical collapse of the "Revolution" made in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, "the commonly accredited organ (or, as some might say, considering its size and tone, 'Jewsharp') of the publishers and booksellers of the United States." In his usual cheerful way of looking at things he makes capital of the very débris. He answers with figures. He always answers facts with figures as readily as the grammar school-boy puts down the "millions" on his slate, and as promptly is ready for any sort of an explanation. Referring to the "stand-still," he plausibly calls it a "temporary withdrawal" and in the same facetious manner announces:

"As soon as we can overtake this demand (of which there is no probability for many months to come), we shall resume the publication of our miscellaneous books, when it is our purpose to make them generally of quality superior to our average in the past, and, consequently, at higher prices. Therefore, if you wish to secure any of our miscellaneous books at the extremely low prices heretofore given, you will have to buy them at the coming auction-sale in November."

The italics are our own. One of the big blasts of the Revolution was "you want no books more beautiful than ours."

The Bookseller and Stationer ("that Chicago fellow" and "good friend"), commenting on the same remarks turned to so good account by the clever "manager," takes this view of the matter:

"In explanation of the above it may be said that the American Book Exchange has achieved a 'second revolution,' which its manager claims to be a more wonderful success than his first, and we are inclined for once to agree with him. He has advertised to close out his entire stock of miscellaneous books at a discount of thirty-three per cent from previous prices, and what is left of them will be dumped into a New York auction house early in November. Thereafter the Exchange will discontinue all its miscellaneous publications, notwithstanding the enormous profits they have been unceasingly bringing into its treasury, according to its gifted manager's assertion, and devote its attention to the publication of an Encyclopedia."

COMMUNICATIONS.

AN ORDER AND A REPLY.

A SYRACUSE bookseller recently made this order on a New York publishing house:

"Gents: I have sold a good many of the books entitled 'Crumbs Swept Up,' 'Around the Tea-table,' etc., etc., by Talmage. I understand you publish his 'Abominations of Modern Society.' I could sell a good many if you would make the discount right. You may send me at 60 per cent off, same as I buy the others for, a dozen copies to start with."

To which this was the answer:

"When publishers become sick of a book they sell at 60 per cent off. As we publish books to make something out of the business we offer no retailer the temptation of such a huge profit as 60 per cent. It is simply saying to him, 'now put the book on your list at one-third off from publisher's price.' This is business, doubtless, for you, but it is merely murder for the publisher. . . . Our terms for such an order as you make are 30 per cent off.

THE "REVOLUTION."

DEAR EDITOR—Something more than eighteen months ago our quiet community was set in commotion, by the startling announcement that Chambers's Cyclopædia, revised, enlarged and Americanized, by the addition of several thousand new articles on subjects pertaining to this country and at a price unthought of among the professional book butchers. Furthermore, persons subscribing and paying for the whole work in advance, received for a limited time an immense reduction from the said unheard of price; at the expiration of said time the price should be advanced at a regular monthly rate. I could not resist the inducement to secure a few subscribers and encourage so great a benefactor of the race. The work was positively to be completed in a very short time (about four months I think); and although the first volumes which were advertised as ready for delivery at the time did not reach us for a number of weeks, we accepted the excuses made, as the further volumes would be received at regular intervals. We received about four volumes more or less regularly, when there was a pause.

We wrote to headquarters, and although we repeatedly asked when we might expect another volume, we could get no reply. One of the subscribers being in New York called at the office, and was told there had been a delay on account of the overwhelming increase in business but soon everything would move in regular order. Six weeks passed and volume 6 came, where was volume 5? More correspondence; seven weeks brought volume 6; where is 5? Eight weeks, volumes 5 and 7 received, short thirteen copies of number required; correspondence; two months more brought the copies short on last invoice, henceforth they are coming promptly on time. Volumes 8 and 9 received in (over) due time. In June the balance will be sent all at once. July 1, circulars received informing us that the whole work is now being delivered as rapidly as possible, also stating any one sending ten dollars (the price given by the earliest subscribers) would have the whole work delivered at once. Some of the neighbors who could not be induced to subscribe in advance send their money and received the complete work in two weeks. September 28 we are anxiously looking for the balance of the volumes, (one-third of the whole), for which we paid about five hundred dollars nearly eighteen months ago, and for which we are unable to get any satisfactory answer from the "Revolution" for not sending. Meantime persons sending ten dollars get their orders filled in a few days. Some of our club paid as high as fourteen dollars, but are unable to get their sets completed. We heartily commend the "Revolution" to the readers of the weekly as a first-class—

POSTAL MATTERS.

DECISIONS AFFECTING PUBLISHERS, FROM
AUG. 20 TO SEPT. 20, 1881.

From the October Postal Guide.

603. The opinion of the Assistant Attorney-General, as printed on page 37, "Postal Guide," August, 1880, modified thereafter all rulings of the Department under it. "Valentines" and fancy lithographed cards, even in quantities, are third-class matter. It is also therein stated that "bill-heads" and "letter-heads" are not to be classed with printed matter, but as "merchandise." This is on the ground that the paper is not incidental to the main object, which, if the matter were third class, would be the reproduction of the letters, characters, etc. So of printed envelopes, which are fourth class. Of course, when upon the advice of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department a principle is announced that reverses a line of rulings, the publication of the opinion in the "Postal Guide" is intended to notify postmasters of the future rule to be acted upon, and it, in effect, reverses former inconsistent rulings.

604. When publishers state that their publication is furnished to subscribers for a year at no profit, they declare the subscription price to be "nominal," as referred to in section 185, P. L. & R.

609. The opinion of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department, as referred to in ruling 575, "Postal Guide," September, 1881, does not change the construction of the law under which weekly publications are delivered by carriers at the pound rate, nor is the ruling to be understood as changing section 240, P. L. & R.

618. A book and a letter presented for mailing, the same being tied or stuck together, are subject to letter postage.

FICTION AND CRIME.

From an article by L. Ulbach in the Revue politique.

"A CRIMINAL only fifteen years old has just been condemned for premeditated assassination. The public prosecutor repeated, according to the indictment, that the young Perousset had read too many romances and had been led astray by this bad reading.

"Justice ought to put an end to a contradiction which she makes more glaring every day. When she compiles statistics, she reports with grief, that among every one hundred condemned to death, there are ninety-five who have never learned to read and write; they evidently did not read romances to corrupt them.

"Either reading is a means of moralization, or it is a means of increasing crime. If the first, we ought to multiply schools and libraries; if the second, we ought to destroy them and propagate holy ignorance. To put the question thus is to resolve it. Those who are accused of having read too much, have not read enough. They have got intoxicated with a single book; if they had known others, their brains would have remained in equilibrium."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MR. SWINBURNE'S new tragedy, "Queen Mary"—the third part of the trilogy on the Scottish queen—will be published in a few weeks.

S. WADDINGTON, known to lovers of sonnet literature by his "English Sonnets by Living Writers," is about to publish a companion volume under the title of "English Sonnets by Poets of the Past."

KARL KNORTZ, of Johnstown, Pa., will issue through Bernhard Schlicke, of Leipsic, a series of essays on American topics entitled "Aus der transatlantischen Gesellschaft — Kulturbilder aus Nordamerika."

DISTRICT ATTORNEY Col. George B. Corkhill, of Washington, who has been engaged for several years in the preparation of a history of the assassination of Presidents, intends to extend the scope of his work so as to embrace a history of the assassination of President Garfield.

CHARLES REEMELIN, publishes through Trübner & Co., London, "A Critical Review of American Politics," in which, after the manner of comparative research, he takes the standpoint of comparing them as they actually are with what they ought to be. Mr. Reemelin is a native of Southern Germany, but has been a citizen of the United States since 1832, when he immigrated to this country.

ARCHIBALD FORBES, the English war correspondent, attended the Yorktown celebration, and proposes to write for the London press a series of articles on the men and events of the time there commemorated. Mr. Forbes has projected also a literary work on "The South of To-day," which will be first printed as a newspaper serial in London. After leaving Yorktown, Mr. Forbes starts on a lecturing tour in the South.

PROF. J. M. HOPPIN, of Yale College, has been engaged for some years upon an enlarged edition of his well-known treatise on Homiletics, and it is now completed and is passing through the press of Dodd, Mead & Company. The work has already an established reputation in homiletical literature, and in preparing the new edition the author has so expanded and improved it that new stereotype plates were necessary. It is now practically a new work.

MISS HELEN ZIMMERN, says the Boston Transcript, is engaged upon a work which is likely to attract attention from its novelty and the charm of its subject. She is refashioning the stories told by the Persian poet Firdusi in his famous epic. The only previous attempt to present any portion of the "Shah Nameh" to English readers was made by James Atkinson, of the East India Company's service, in 1832. Miss Zimmern's work, which will be entitled "Epic of Kings," will have etchings by Alma Tadema, and a prefatory poem by Mr. Edmund W. Gosse. The publishers will be Marshall Japp & Co., London.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Le Français, the journal in French which M. Jules Levy is publishing once a month in Cambridge, in the interest of students of the French language, makes its appearance again after a summer vacation.

THE Magazin für die Literatur des In- und Auslandes has been selected by the "General Association of German Authors" as its official organ, which fact cannot but considerably add to the interest of that well-conducted literary journal.

A NEW international magazine is to be started at Leipzig, styled Auf der Höhe. It will be edited by the well-known chronicler of Galician life, Sacher-Masoch. Among the contributors are to be Madame Adam, M. Alphonse Daudet, M. Renan, M. Saint-Saëns, M. C. Vogt, Count A. de Gubernatis, Herr Vambery, S. Scanzoni, Prof. Bluntzschli, Prof. Kirchhoff, and various Dutch, Danish, Polish, Servian, and Swedish writers.

THE ART INTERCHANGE PUBLISHING CO. has commenced publishing a new monthly magazine, Art-Work Manuals, edited by Mr. Charles G. Leland. Each number is devoted to a single topic, as Ceramic Painting, Tapestry Painting, Wood Carving, Art Needlework, etc., and will contain supplementary sheets of working designs, besides illustrations and full, clear instructions how to begin and continue the practice of some form of hand art work by which a livelihood may be earned. The designs in every number are generally applicable to all the arts.

THE CENTURY CO. announce that with the next number, the title of Scribner's Monthly becomes The Century Magazine. The first issue of The Century Magazine will have the general appearance of the old Scribner, but the page will be larger and without "rules," so that about fourteen pages of matter is added by the new arrangement. The publishers intend to emphasize the new series by a number (for November) of peculiar pictorial beauty and literary interest. One of the principal features of this number is the portrait of George Eliot, by Burton, which Mrs. Cross's family put forth through The Century Magazine as an authorized likeness of the great novelist. The portrait is accompanied by an account—also authorized—of her religious and philosophic beliefs, by Frederick W. H. Myers.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

A. D. F. RANDOLPH & Co. have in preparation "The Gospel of Christ," by the Bishop of Rochester.

MRS. BURNETT'S "A Fair Barbarian," it is reported, has sold to the extent of 16,070 copies in England.

MRS. LUCRETIA R. GARFIELD has written a letter, expressing her intention of making an appropriate collection of the literary remains of the late President, which is to be published at the earliest practicable time.

SUBSCRIBERS to the "Encyclopædia Britannica" will learn with satisfaction, from the London Athenæum, the remarkable fact that, in the forthcoming volume, "there are several articles that promise to be of interest."

It is positively stated that some of the parties aggrieved by mention of their names and usages in "Cape Cod Folks," have brought, or are just about to bring, suit, against the publishers, A. Williams & Co. If so a "boom" may easily be predicted for the book.

A. WILLIAMS & Co. will soon issue three juveniles—"The Deserted Ship," by George Cupples; "Driven to Sea;" and "Troublesome Children," a series of amusing sketches by Francis G. Attwood, designer of the pictures in "Rollo's Trip to Cambridge."

THE Baltimore and Ohio R. R. Co. have just issued for gratuitous distribution their new "B. and O. Red Book," for New York. It contains much interesting information, comprising full figures of the latest vote in this State on Congress, President, etc., with comparisons for previous years.

GINN, HEATH & Co. have just completed their edition of the separate plays of Shakespeare, edited by Mr. Hudson, for school and family use, and very carefully expurgated of lines that should be omitted. 83,771 volumes of this edition of these plays have been sold in the last six years.

BROWN & DERRY, 21 Park Place, N. Y., have issued a neatly-printed volume, entitled "Is there a Christian Sabbath?" a reprint of an anonymous work, entitled "A Scripture View of the Sabbath," edited, with copious notes and two supplementary chapters, by a churchman of Northern Ohio.

THE new illustrated edition of "Lucile," just published by James R. Osgood & Co., is the first to give the correct name of the place in which the scene of the poem is laid—Luchon—all previous editions spell it Serchon, a mistake which originally arose from a misinterpretation of the author's MS., and which he overlooked in the proof.

WILLIAMS BROS., Cleveland, have in preparation a "History of Cincinnati and Hamilton County, Ohio," by Capt. Henry A. Ford and Mrs. Kate B. Ford, of Detroit, Mich., who are also preparing "The History of Penobscot County, Maine," and are supervising the compilation of a history of Louisville and other cities about the Falls of the Ohio, to be issued early next year.

THOMAS WHITTAKER announces a third edition of Bishop Littlejohn's "Conciones ad Clerum," which will have a very full table of contents forming an epitome of each concio, which was lacking in the previous editions. Mr. Whittaker will also bring out Dr. Shelton's "Rector of St. Bardolph's," a book which has been out of print for some time.

FRANCES POWER COBBE's "Duties of Women," published by George H. Ellis, has run rapidly through three American editions, and has already had a much larger sale in this country than in England. The new cheap edition just issued in paper binding at twenty-five cents, seems likely to give the admirable little work the universal reading which it deserves.

PETER G. THOMSON, Cincinnati, has just issued by subscription, "King's Mountain and its Heroes," a history of the battle of King's Mountain, October 7, 1780, and the events which led to it, by Lyman C. Draper, LL.D. The volume is a handsome octavo, printed in the excellent style for which Mr. Thomson's publications are noted, and contains a number of steel portraits, maps, and plans.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS again call the attention of the trade to their instructions to deliver no goods for their account to messengers unless they are provided with their imprinted pass-books, and request that messengers unprovided with such books, who attempt to obtain goods, should be detained. This is a commendable rule, and, if generally observed, would prevent considerable annoyance as well as loss.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY have just issued four "Tiny" books $2\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ inches. They are all written by Annie S. Frost, a well-known writer for the little ones, and are entitled: "Tiny's Casket of Jewels;" "The Pic-nic;" "Country Pets;" and "The Cousins." Notwithstanding their small size, the books are printed from readable type, and have a number of illustrations. They are put up in a box, and retail at 75 cents.

THOMAS NELSON & SONS issue two dainty volumes of Nursery Gems, one "Little Red Riding Hood," with original illustrations by M. E. Edwards, with vignettes by W. Gunston; the other, "Puss in Boots," with original illustrations by E. K. Johnston, with vignettes also by W. Gunston. In both volumes the text is printed in a tint, the full-page illustrations being lithographs. The volumes are attractively bound and cannot fail in becoming favorites.

A. M. COLLINS, COPE & CO. have issued three new designs of folding cards etched in black, intended for holiday advertising. They are numbered 1110, 1111 and 1112. One of their most important novelties in folding cards is a series of four designs, Nos. 1100 to 1103 inclusive, of large size, suitable for menus, etc. The design consists of a combination of black etching with color, giving the effect of a fine steel-plate card having the floral portions of its design colored by hand.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have in preparation for early publication the second edition of May on "Insurance;" the ninth edition of Story on "Agency;" Thatcher's "Digest of the Jurisdiction and Practice of the Supreme Court of the United States;" Morse on "Citizenship by Birth and by Naturalization;" Schouler on the "Law of Husband and Wife;" the second volume of Baldwin's "Connecticut Digest;" Morasvets on the "Law of Private Corporations;" and the third edition of Perry on "Trusts and Trustees."

CHARLES L. WOODWARD, of New York, has now ready "Reports on the Estate of Sir Andrew Chadwick, and the recent proceedings of the Chadwick Association in reference thereto," by Edmund Chadwick, the chairman, and James Boardman, the secretary and treasurer of the association. The volume is prefaced with a "Life and History of Sir Andrew Chadwick," by John Oldfield Chadwick, and contains also a number of woodcuts, lithographed map, elaborate pedigrees, coats-of-arms, a portrait of Sir Andrew, and numerous notes and references. The volume, a handsome quarto, has been compiled with the greatest care and labor and is a most important addition to genealogical literature.

A. J. HOLMAN & CO. have their new Bible warehouse, Nos. 1222, 1224, and 1226 Arch Street, above Twelfth Street, about ready for occupancy. The building has a front of 60 feet on Arch Street, running back to Cuthbert Street, 175 feet and is five stories high. The front on Arch Street is of very handsome pressed brick with brown-stone trimmings, the ceilings are very high, and all the rooms well ventilated and lighted. The manufacturing department is built in the most substantial manner, iron columns supporting iron girders, and in fact the building may be considered fire-proof. About the first of November Messrs. A. J. H. & Co. will occupy their new quarters, and will be pleased to have their customers favor them with a call.

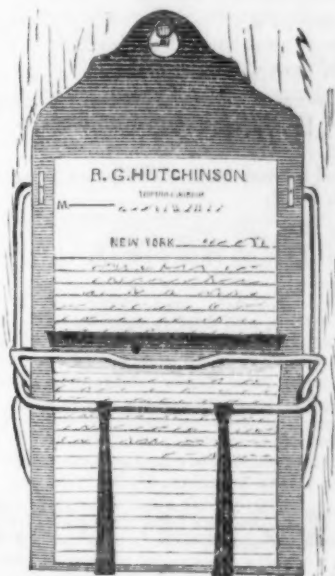

RAND, McNALLY & CO., Chicago, are issuing an excellent series of indexed Maps. As far as issued the series comprises England and Wales, Ireland, Scotland, and Cuba. The maps, which are issued in handy pocketable size, give railroads, counties, islands, lakes, mountains, and rivers, together with every post-office, railroad station or town carefully indexed, referring to the exact location where each may be found on the map. They have also recently issued the first volume of their "Cyclopædia of Political Science, Political Economy, and of the History of the United States," a work which in scope and plan is something new in the English language, though similar works may be found in French and German. Among the articles in the first volume is a treatment of the subject of "Clearing and Clearing Houses," by Mr. H. D. Lloyd.

GEORGE H. ELLIS, Boston, issues a new and enlarged edition of "Man's Origin and Destiny," a book of wide and high thought, and taking a nobly optimistic view of human nature and its future, by J. Peter Lesley; "Ecce Spiritus," a religious book, emphasizing the spirit of religion as vastly more important than the letter or any form, and lifting the reader above the din and doubt of dogma, is another important book nearly ready at Ellis'. In a different line, "Tender and True," a small book of love poems, to be issued soon, will perhaps be equally welcome and more popular. The purity and wholesomeness of the collection are assured by the fact that it is edited by Mrs.

Tileston, a lady of exquisite taste and refinement, who edited "Quiet Hours."

BOERICKE & TAFEL have just issued a second edition of Dr. C. G. Raue's important work on "Special Pathology and Diagnostics, with Therapeutic Hints." This edition has been rewritten and enlarged—a re-statement throughout of the pathological views having become a necessity in view of the many changes which have taken place since the first appearance of the work; the therapeutic portion of the work has been made still more clear, its sphere has been enlarged, and to it has been added such new facts as the experience of the author and others would admit. The chapter on the eye has been revised by Dr. G. S. Norton, and that on the ear by Drs. G. S. Norton and H. C. Houghton. The publishers, too, have most liberally contributed their share toward making this a most acceptable volume. It is remarkable, as are all the publications of this house, for the beauty of its typography, print, paper, and binding—the latter in this case being attractive as well as durable.

THE Novelty Letter and Note File manufactured by R. G. Hutchinson, 44 Maiden Lane, N. Y., is the latest and in some respects the best made, being suitable to use as a well-pocket, and is equally well adapted to use on a desk or in a drawer. Having no large projection as in most other files, it takes up only the space in thickness required by the papers. They are similar in principle and style to the popular Novelty Bill Holders, but with the addition of rubber bands, extending from the lower brass wire to the bottom of the board, to prevent the papers from sliding out when the file is in a slanting or upright position. These bands may be readily replaced when necessary. The files are made in two sizes, letter and note. The Novelty Bill Holders are also made with the rubber attachment, as well as in the old way.

PRESLEY BLAKISTON, Philadelphia, has now ready Morton's "Refraction of the Eye: its Diagnosis, and the Correction of its Errors, with a chapter on Keratotomy." This little book is of great value in determining the phenomena connected with the state of a patient's refraction. Mr. Blakiston has just imported the new, fifth, London edition of Heath's "Anatomy; or, Manual of Dissections." It has 24 colored plates, and 269 engravings on wood. There is a new edition also of Domville's "Manual for Hospital Nurses and others engaged in attending to the Sick." This has the celebrated recipes for sick-room cooking which have proved of so great importance.

Among the new books in preparation, Dr. Edwards' work on "Malaria" is nearly ready; and well into the press is an important handbook on "Physical Diagnosis," by Dr. Bruen, Demonstrator of Clinical Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

E. P. ROE has written the following letter, dated Cornwall-on-Hudson, October 18, to the N. Y. Tribune: "A few days since my publishers, Messrs. Dodd, Mead & Co., sent me a paper-covered book with this title-page: 'Robertson's Cheap Series. Popular Reading at Popular Prices. Give Me Thine Heart!' A Novel by Rev. E. P. Roe, Author of 'Barriers Burned Away,' 'Opening a Chestnut Burr,' 'What Can She Do?' etc. I. Ross Robertson, Toronto,' etc. The novel, 'Give me Thine Heart,' may be a much better one than I can write. If so, there is all the more reason that I should disclaim its authorship. I never wrote a word of the story, and I protest against the use of my name in connection with it. I know little of the history of this book. It was first published by Carleton in cloth, and was never sent to the press for review, it being part of a series designed exclusively for sale on the railroads. I first noticed the book on a news-stand with the name 'Roe' conspicuously printed on its back. Beyond this name there was nothing to indicate its origin. I cannot suppose that Mr. Carleton intended any misapprehension to occur, but that it was occasioned by the ambiguous title was clearly shown by numerous letters and inquiries. The Canadian publisher's announcement, however, is not in the least doubtful. We thus have another proof of the need of an international copyright law; for not only may an author's books be stolen, but also his name. Carelessness or dishonesty of this nature should be punished so severely by the press as to render its repetition impossible."

THE fourth part of Prof. Skeat's "Etymological Dictionary of the English Language," completing the work, is announced at the Clarendon Press.

THE English life of President Garfield, "From Log Cabin to White House," by W. M. Thayer, has reached a third edition, and is to be reprinted in Dutch by an Amsterdam House. The third edition has a new chapter, "From White House to the Grave."

ELLIOT STOCK, of London, well known as the publisher of valuable antiquarian and bibliographical works, announces the early publication of a new series of books on antiquarian subjects under the title of The Antiquary's Library, to be issued in sets of three volumes at a subscription price of £1 5s. The volumes will be uniform and issued in four styles, limited in quantity. The first will comprise 750 copies in handsome demy 8vo; the second is to be restricted to three sets, printed on vellum; the third to 25 large paper copies, and the fourth is to be an issue of one large paper copy only printed on vellum and bound in antique polished morocco. The works selected for the first year's subscription, are "Folk Lore Relics of Early Village Life," by G. L. Gomme; "The Game and Playe of the Chesse," reprinted from Caxton's edition, with notes, etc., by W. E. A. Axon, and "Personal Ornaments and their associations," by H. B. Wheatley.

By —; GEORGE WASHINGTON (1732-1799). By John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," etc.; THOMAS JEFFERSON (1743-1826). By —; ANDREW JACKSON (1767-1845). By George T. Lanigan, author of "Fables out of the World."

If the names of the authors awaken a suspicion that there may be something humorous in the books, it should be known that despite anything of that kind, the truth of history is adhered to with most uncompromising rigidity—perhaps, in some cases, a little too uncompromising, or compromising: that depends on the point of view.

Recent announcements make it proper to state that this series was begun several years ago. This prospectus, and the volume now published, was in type in the spring of the current year.

The publishers congratulate themselves that they are able to inaugurate the series with a volume by one who is often called the most delicate of American humorists, and who is at the same time known as a painstaking scholar.

From the PREFACE: "If my estimate of the character of Smith is not that which his biographers have entertained, and differs from his own candid opinion, I can only plead that contemporary evidence and a collation of his own stories show that he was mistaken. I am not aware that there has been any systematic effort to collate his different accounts of his exploits. If he had ever undertaken the task, he might have disturbed that serene opinion of himself which makes him a man who realized his own ideas."

The later volumes are in fields which, having been already more thoroughly explored, do not call for so much original research. The authors having less of the investigator's labor thrown upon them, have given freer rein to the humor which has made them celebrated.

GREECE AND ROME.

THEIR LIFE AND ART.

By JACOB VON FALKE, Director of the Imperial Museum, Berlin. Translated by William Hand Browne. 4to, $15.

The numerous portraits of interesting objects and pictorial "restorations" of places and occurrences in Athens, Rome, and Olympia, are believed to surpass in interest and artistic merit anything of the kind ever before published.

YOUNG FOLKS' HISTORY OF THE WAR FOR THE UNION.

By JOHN D. CHAMPLIN, Jr., editor of the Young Folks' Cyclopedias. 8vo. Copiously illustrated. $2.75.

Time has at length placed among curious and intelligent readers, a generation which has no personal knowledge of the great American Civil War. As most of these new readers are "Young Folks," the publishers have peculiar satisfaction in announcing a history of that conflict suited to their needs, combining impartiality and all needed completeness, and written by an author whose reputation is established for thoroughness, accuracy, and facility in writing for the young.

Christmas

Catalogue.

ISSUED BY

[ALL ENTERPRISING BOOKSELLERS.]

The ILLUSTRATED CHRISTMAS NUMBER of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY will be issued under date of November 19th, to give time for the imprint editions to reach all dealers not later than the first week in December.

Publishers are requested to send in their advertising favors (or notify us what space they desire) at the earliest moment, with information as to the books they have in preparation (especially illustrated books) for the holiday trade.

The Number will as usual present the finest specimen illustrations from the NEW HOLIDAY BOOKS, with special articles on the leading works, a full descriptive summary of books and stationery novelties, reference price-lists covering the ILLUSTRATED WORKS, BOOKS FOR THE YOUNG, and other CHOICE BOOKS published during 1881, etc., etc. Every endeavor will be made to surpass the issues of previous years, pronounced by the German "Book Trade Magazine" the most attractive publication of the kind issued in the book-producing countries.

The matter of this Number is issued simultaneously as the CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE, with dealer's imprint.

The local bookseller can add half as much again to his holiday trade by properly calling the attention of the public to his goods. For this purpose, the best means is the circulation of this handsome, interesting, and comprehensive CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE, which is received with pleasure by those to whom it is given or sent, as itself a picture-book of no little value; and its descriptions of, and illustrations from books, at once arouse the desire to purchase the books themselves.

No better investment can be made by the bookseller who wants to make the most of his holiday trade.

Orders filled in the order of size of edition, largest first, and then of receipt. As the paper is specially made for this issue, orders should be received at once, as the filling of later demands cannot be guaranteed.

The thick paper edition of the CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE will be supplied as follows:

SINGLE COPIES (postpaid),	25 CTS.		PER 100 COPIES (with imprint),	$15 00
------------------------------------	---------	--	---	---------

The thin paper edition, with dealers' imprints, will be supplied at the following rates:

PER 100 COPIES,	$8 50		PER 500 COPIES,	$38 00
" 250 "	20 00		" 1000 "	75 00

Orders should be sent in at once, and in order to avoid delay, it is absolutely necessary that copy for imprint, together with full directions for forwarding, should accompany the remittance. All packages sent by express unpaid, unless other shipping directions are given.

L. PRANG & CO.'S Christmas and New-Year Cards for 1881-82.

Our line of Christmas and New-Year Cards is now complete, and our agents are soliciting orders. The extent of our list, the originality, and especially the American character of our designs, together with the great care taken in their execution, will no doubt secure for our goods the popularity which they have enjoyed heretofore. The names of the artists whose designs have been reproduced are a guaranty of their excellence. We would only name

ELIHU VEDDER, C. C. COLEMAN, THOMAS MORAN, Miss ROSINA EMMET, Miss DORA WHEELER, Mrs. O. E. WHITNEY, W. H. GIBSON, F. S. CHURCH, R. G. BIRCH, etc.

Our silk-fringed cards will be in great demand this season. They are made with the best quality of silk fringes of new colors and style. A marked feature of our cards is the elegantly ornamented and attractive backs. All our fringed cards are furnished with envelopes and protectors, so as to insure safe transportation in the mails.

Prang's Prize Christmas Cards.—Competition of 1881.

These are the cards selected by the judges in the second competition for four designs of Christmas Cards, for which we offered $2000 in prizes of $1000, $500, $300 and $200 respectively. At the recommendation of the judges, the prize for the third best card was increased to $500. Mrs. Celia Thaxter has written appropriate verses for each of the designs.

First Prize Card ($1000) . . . by Elihu Vedder. | Third Prize Card ($500) . . . by C. C. Coleman.
Second Prize Card ($500) by Miss Dora Wheeler. | Fourth Prize Card ($200) by Miss Rosina Emmet.

OUR LITTLE ONES. With 350 Original Illustrations. Beautiful Covers in gold and colors. Charming Stories. Edited by OLIVER OPTIC. Boards, $1.50; cloth, gilt, $2.50.

"Containing three hundred and fifty most charming illustrations, drawn and engraved in the very best and most artistic manner; printed upon the heaviest of cream laid paper, with the daintiest of illuminated covers and the choicest of reading matter, this is a book which can be heartily recommended to those in search of appropriate literature for the 'dimpled darlings.' The engravings, unlike the crude outlines that come to us in English juvenile books, are equal to the best work in Harper's Magazine, and the text is sufficiently guaranteed by the fact that it has all been edited by 'Oliver Optic,' who is evidently intolerant of literary rubbish, as nothing of the kind is ever given out with his sign-manual attached. We have seen no juvenile work of this size and price, which is at all comparable with 'Our Little Ones' in genuine beauty and value."—Chicago Herald.

"The volume is by far the best juvenile book on the subject that has yet appeared in the English language. It is full of adventure, humorous incidents, and animated, picturesque descriptions. The style in which it is written is exceedingly bright and pleasing, and not only young readers but adults will find a large and attractive share of entertainment and information in its pages."—Gazette, Boston.
